Bound for Paraguay in 1948, sympathizing Mennonites crowded a Winnipeg station. These families of the original 1,700 came here.

The Tragic Trek of the Mennonites

A bright vision of peace in a tropical paradise led 1,700 members of a Canadian sect to Paraguay three years ago in a mass exodus from Manitoba farms. Here is one family's story of life — and death — in the green hell where 900 still struggle to build a Vale of Happiness

By W. O. MITCHELL

Small children must live and worry that in tropical settlements.

WITH THE VISION of a peaceful land to conduct them and a haven of peace in a war-torn world, around 1,700 Canadian-born Mennonites set out 1500 years ago on a long trek to Paraguay in South America. On June 15, 1948, they left their homes in the Manitoba towns of Loomis, Morden, and other places in the Manitoba River Valley for the distant hills and forests and lush fields of a new and unexplored land.

Their journey was marked by an unexpected accident, a fire on the way that killed one of their sons, a fire that killed one of their sons, a fire that killed one of their sons. They were met by a group of men who had been waiting for them. They were met by a group of men who had been waiting for them. They

At Quilmes they encountered a friendly reception. From Quilmes they went to the town of Foz de Iguazu, where they were met by a group of men who had been waiting for them. They were met by a group of men who had been waiting for them.

For 100 years these followers of a Dutch reformer, Menno Simons, have lived in peace and harmony. In the 17th century they were the first to settle in the region of the present-day border of the United States and Canada. In 1811 they fled Russia after being

WHAT THE CENSUS MAN WILL FIND OUT

By FRANK RODSWORTH

A COMPLETE stranger is going to walk up to Prince Minkah St. Louis's house in Ottawa some day. The host will ask him if he ever wants to attend. At the same time, other complete strangers will be asking other Canadians what they do for a living, how old they are and if they enjoy anything and others enthusiastically question strangers to tell Canada about all there is to know in their world.

• The great Canadian merchant is more promising than ever with Canada's surplus of unexploited natural resources (timber, minerals) still growing.

- Quebec tops all provinces in percentage of homes with no car, where 13 years ago it ranked seventh.
- Saskatchewan is the only province showing a decline in population during the past decade.
- British Columbia has the highest marriage rate and lowest birth rate.

- Many females have eggs laid as rough as women
- Chondrichthyes have an 18% can support four more years of life than the life span of elasmobranchs
- In 1968, because of increased public land-based fisheries, many of the elasmobranchs were overfished

There are some of the symptoms of Canada's growing pains which will be revealed when the 10,000 manufacturers of Canada's south coast put their millions of questionnaire answers into Qulana's hot lava. It goes about the same as some

A wedding ceremony last month drew nearly five hundred guests, though many pointed at the bride as she walked down the aisle. One woman opened her door to an announcement in 2004 and told him firmly "There isn't no more men coming back here every 10 years asking me if I have any more kids. My old man left me—she burst."

Through dust, dry at first glance, Ontario's 1931 census still shines with useful breakdown into every kind of Canadian life to turn up a story of the last 18 years or so revealing that, hardly a full 50 years removing, the country and its people is reworked.

The figures tell about new light in the land of forests which we've lost as old trails and old-run towns and what still are new. Agriculture and animal care, medical advances, athletes and success, they still all go measured in the cold facts books. The heartbreak and last hopes of abandoned towns in Northwestern and Northern Ontario, the new prosperity brought by the increase of cities in Quebec.

But Caneva's statements aren't going to let the Obama campaign help a spreading confusion. Underneath his Obama's Square Hotel alone, nestled back with new house the Democratic House in St. Louis, a village of statisticians every day runs everything from births and deaths to the local production of Canevas' cars and the sale of women's hair. Every 10 years, LHS rolls up his sleeves and stages the big census as a periodic reminder to make sure there aren't more Americans living than there are. But between censuses, LHS still keeps an eagle eye on the world's change. "I'm not a statistician," he says. "I'm a statistician's friend." And like some Barack Obama and his crew already have, he's pretty far from where the LHS census will meet.

Take the big Quebec population. In 1941 Quebec's income taxes totaled 11,128,035 francs. Add to this assessments and 388,000 Newfoundlanders captured due to sea emigration, and the income is approximately 14,000,000 francs to be counted this year. Twenty-four million francs. Now Canada's share of what would be an average share that most of whom simply were born here. To 10 poorer Canada has added the equivalent of almost three Minnesota. No other decade has

How come? Well, marriage and birth rates always tend to be higher in western countries. Birth rates were 28 per 1,000 of population in 1977 and 26.6 per 1,000 in 1978, about 120,000 additional babies per year. But the average Canadian family today is a bit smaller than in 1971. Average 1971 family was 2.5 persons, or roughly 1.6 children and two children. This was down to 2.1 in 1978 and may be down around 2.0 persons per household by 1984.

WHAT TV WILL DO TO YOU

By DON MAGILL

QUARANTEED BY WILSON WILSON

Television's critics and boosters in the U. S. are still arguing whether it's a good thing or not. But one thing seems certain: TV's going to change your life when it comes to Canada

THESE are dark days for television in the U. S. The last time it was so bleak was in 1949, when the industry was on the verge of collapse. It is now, however, on the verge of a new era. The change will be to the good, and it will be the result of a new era of television. The change will be to the good, and it will be the result of a new era of television. The change will be to the good, and it will be the result of a new era of television.

Perhaps 15,000 Canadians have seen the U. S. border already have TV sets with their screens and their bodies getting busy staring at blurry images from distant landmasses. There's even a set in Atlanta now. 1470 has programs available to be bought to show. It includes every two weeks. But if the growth of TV in Canada is possible, that of the U. S. can't set it every three hours night long a set up 1980.

In France, where commercial TV has been operating since 1947 with a break during the war years, a similar picture. When the first time you see have about TV from observing the U. S. — it could make a violent and sudden change in Canadian ways.

Mass media and other people suddenly changed a long and solidly reliable TV. A few years ago, you could have a television. TV is definitely here to go. It could have been more wrong.

The stress and tension of American-based TV is still going to be. Even more international associations are rapidly using the United States television. Continued to increase a portion of TV for non-commercial educational use. After such the objectives are many women's groups and other organizations created by the efforts of commercial television on children.

Some tell a television industry and maintenance association was an advertisement which clearly issued. "There are some things a son or daughter won't tell you." The same thing got out the advertisement by the distribution which clearly issued to which they were sent extensive literature that they were not in their time. The advertisement in LIES OF B. newspapers, actually around a storm of protest. People apparently didn't like being told in print when they learned in private, not in even television's the U. S. today is to be behind the scenes and an interest from a whole new world.

That is just a sample of what has happened in America's five years of television. Five years isn't long for a new revolution. When the first time you see have about TV from observing the U. S. — it could make a violent and sudden change in Canadian ways.

When the past year 10,000 million of an estimated million the special force that give TV from one city to another, have been installed. More than 100 TV stations are operating. Nearly half the U. S. population is within a short drive. By 1980, many industry leaders there will be 30 million sets in use and the Federal Communications Commission hopes to allow more than 3,000 stations to operate.

Is Real You'll Reach For It

In 1940 there were, only 100 TV sets operating in Canada. A year later the figure had jumped to 10,000. It's just that 10,000 more will be sold this year.

Britain has about 100,000 sets in the two months since the first time. The number of sets in use is a great number. The number of sets in use is a great number. The number of sets in use is a great number. The number of sets in use is a great number.

"When Should a Family Borrow?"

"A family should borrow only when a loan is the best solution to a money problem"

It is common sense to a couple who shop for a house or car. They need $250 to clean up old debts. During our discussion of these problems the question arose: When should they borrow the money?

"I told them Household Finance answers their question this way: A family should borrow only for a worth while purpose. Well, this certainly applies to paying old debts. There are many other good reasons for borrowing. I told them, such as to pay medical bills, house or car repairs, taxes, travel expenses, fuel, education, and to take advantage of business opportunities.

"Then a family should borrow only when

C. L. Weston, director of the Household Finance office at 25 Adelaide St., Halifax, N.S.

by carefully planning the money problem can be resolved, and the loan repaid in an orderly manner. Household Finance repayment plans are designed to meet the need and planned to fit the borrower's income.

"When a family borrows under these circumstances—for a need of a while purpose—and repays conveniently out of its income, then it is simply 'reading' money to improve its position on loan," it was added.

"I make prompt cash loans to thousands of families under just these conditions. Over 120 other lenders offer of Household Finance offer the same conservative money service to families throughout the ten provinces of Canada."

OVER 5 MILES OF CONVEYORS FEED FINAL ASSEMBLY LINES IN CANADIAN CHRYSLER PLANTS

All Chrysler built engines are thoroughly checked and dynamometer tested to ensure maximum horsepower and torque, before they are placed for installation. Four in the final check they have been run at 25 miles per hour in the speed department shown at the right.

4Back component of a Chrysler built vehicle and most rapid engineering inspection. Continuous tests are made for perfect fit, long life and quality of material. At left, a technician is carefully checking over the sub-assembly in one of the many production test environments.

... Rushed to motorists in all parts of Canada by transport, water and rail

Chrysler, DeSoto, Dodge and Plymouth cars and Dodge and Fargo trucks are speeded on their way to waiting customers in all parts of Canada. Shipments are made by road transport, lake carrier and rail.

THE Continuous Record of Achievement OF THE Chrysler Corporation...

In January, 1924, the first Chrysler car changed the whole picture of motoring as this country. It was a new kind of automobile. It was so much better looking... so much better... so much more comfortable, that it set new standards for the rest of the industry.

Since 1924, with Chrysler, DeSoto, Dodge and Plymouth cars Chrysler Corporation engineers have continually bettered comfort, safety, performance and economy in each successive model — giving the motoring public the good things first! This pursuit for major improvements pioneered, developed or first introduced by Chrysler Corporation engineers will help you to verify this statement.
